Detail

The course proposed is a half day or full day (advanced driver training to include any specific areas of training such as speed awareness, parking & manoeuvring and fuel-save) in duration and begins with a briefing and objective setting session; this also provides the opportunity for delegates to offer any specific concerns relating to their general driving or any of the course content.

Setting the scene for any training course is of paramount importance, and this particular discussion will cover the reasons for the course — which may include the trainee's driving performance, or may be as part of a company's H&S policy.

Practical Training — On Road

Following the briefing, the course will commence with an eyesight and vehicle check. The trainer and the candidate will discuss the best format for the session to be able to achieve the goals previously set. Breaks will be arranged around the needs of the candidate, as will a short demonstration drive to help develop the skills of the driver. The training session will cover the following:

1

Systematic vehicle checking

To ensure safety and legal compliance.

2

High-risk environments

Developing the driver's expertise in managing high-risk environments they will often be subjected to — urban roads, rural roads, major trunk roads and manoeuvring situations.

3

Perceptual & coaching skills

Exploring the principles of keeping space, identifying risk, keeping visible, and communicating with other road users.

4

Eco-driving techniques

Introduced to reduce operational costs to the business, including fuel saving and reducing wear and tear on the vehicle.

Who Is This For?

Standard driver training

Any driver who requires 'Standard' driver training, who may need additional help with any area of driving skills — to include speed awareness, fuel-save, parking & manoeuvring, or a general refresher driver training course.

An unfamiliar vehicle

Any driver who is using an unfamiliar vehicle — for example, a driver moving up from a car to a van (LCV) — and requires training / assessment in the vehicle.
